HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt, nut or screw, and is detached readily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new fastening ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY REGISTER]

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 10

Congressional

WASHINGTON, Feb 9 From all from the Judiciary Committee the present Chief Justice of the United States will not administer the oath to the Senators elect from Mississippi. The substitute declares that with an exception of a few days in the State of Mississippi has not been represented in Congress since the recess commenced, a full month previous to the last session of the Supreme Court of the United States, most of the Judges left their respective circuits.

WASHINGTON, Feb 9 In the Senate Sherman introduced a joint resolution providing that a State which has not received its quota of the public lands granted by the United States for agricultural and mechanical colleges shall not in future receive such lands unless the Legislature shall be free to act with regard to race or color.

Chandler, from the Committee on Commerce, reported with amendment a bill in regard to the postal service.

Ramsey, from the Committee on Post Offices, reported the House post route bill with amendments.

Chandler, from the Committee on Commerce, reported favorably on the bill authorizing a railroad from the City of Washington to New York, Pittsburg and Cincinnati, and a telegraph from Washington to the two latter points.

The greater portion of the morning was consumed by Scott in refuting the orders and statements by the Special Commissioner of Internal Revenue particularly as to the cost of the manufacture of pig iron.

Upon the expiration of the morning hour Trumbull said he wished to call up the Mississippi bill.

Ramsey made an effort to bring before the Senate the bill to abolish the franking privilege, remarking that he had been instructed by the Postal Committee to urge its immediate consideration.

Morrill called up the bill making appropriations to the naval service for the present fiscal year which passed.

The Mississippi bill was taken up and the question stated to be upon the amendment of the committee to strike out the preamble and all the conditions in the bill. It gave rise to a lengthy discussion upon the policy of imposing fundamental conditions prior to the representations of the State in Congress. Trumbull, Morton and Stewart favored the unconditional representation of Mississippi. Pomeroy, Edmunds and Wilson opposed it. During the debate, Stewart corrected what he said was a misrepresentation of facts made by Sumner during the debate on the Virginia bill, in which the latter assumed to be the author of the provision in the reconstruction act of 1867, conferring suffrage on the colored men, which assumption Stewart claimed was unfounded. The records showed that the provision originated in the House of Representatives, where it was offered by Bingham of Ohio.

A long discussion ensued of a personal nature, participated in by Stewart, Trumbull and Sumner, at the close of which the Senate adjourned.

In the House, Roots introduced a bill to encourage the establishment of a mail steamship line to India and China, and to promote emigration from Europe to the Southern States, referred.

A resolution previously reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, asking the President for information concerning the imprisonment of American citizens in England for political offenses came up, and was discussed during the morning hour.

On motion of Banks, the privilege of the floor for the day was given to John Kitts, a Revolutionary soldier, who appeared on the floor and conversed with members, showing but slight indications of his extreme age. He was born in Pennsylvania, in 1762, witnessed the surrender of Cornwallis, and served also in the war of 1812.

A resolution was adopted directing the Committee on Public Lands to define by law what is meant by swamp and overflowed lands, also a resolution calling on the Secretary of State for information why the Spanish Government has not paid in coin the amount according to the treaty of 1869, due as interest on claims of American citizens in Paris, and why any portion thereof has been paid in legal tender notes.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Legislative and Appropriation bill.

An amendment, offered yesterday for keeping the Capital Police up to the present number and pay, was discussed at some length and rejected. The paragraph for pay and mileage of members having been reached, Butler, of Massachusetts moved to reduce it to half a million, with a proviso that no part shall be paid for mileage. He desired gentlemen to go to the country on questions of economy, and that they should vote on some practical thing. The debate was general spirited and exciting. Fitch, Kelly, of Pennsylvania, and Farnsworth and Cox, opposed reduction. Ingersoll and Lafin supported it. Cox improved the occasion to attack Butler, the man who, he said, conscientiously loved the people and would not take mileage, either in currency or gold. Butler replied disdainfully, "Shoo, fly, don't bodder me!" Cox, in turn, said everybody knew the gentleman from Massachusetts was a bad man. The discussion was continued by a number of members. Cox again got the floor and made an exceedingly personal speech in reply to Butler's. The vote was finally taken on Butler's amendment, which was rejected. The committee rose and the House adjourned.

Washington Matters in General

WASHINGTON, Feb 9 The President today sent to the Senate the nomination of Jesse R. Grant, as postmaster at Covington, Ky. The Senate Judiciary Committee heard the delegation of Georgians, who take grounds that the present Legislature was illegally organized, owing to the admission of minority candidates. They argued in favor of the re-organization of that body.

A general order of the War Department forbids the use of coal oil for the illuminating of military posts. Lard oil is to be substituted.

The official statement shows that during the year ending December 31 the receipts from spirits were nearly fifty millions, tobacco twenty millions, stamps, nearly sixteen millions. The aggregate of receipts from Internal Revenue are nearly one hundred and seventy two millions.

The House Committee on Military Affairs today was engaged in the investigation of alleged sales of Cadetships. One witness positively testified that a member of the House in the last Congress, sold a naval appointment for eight hundred dollars. The youth, however, did not pass the examination, and his parents lost their money.

The Select Committee on the Decline of American Commerce, have nearly completed their report. They will recommend drawback on all ship building materials and the repeal of tonnage duties on American vessels.

Message from the Governor of Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Feb 9 Governor Walker sent in a supplementary Message to the Legislature today, referring to the difficulty of testing Judges not disqualified by the Fourteenth Amendment. He recommends that Congress be petitioned for a general removal of disabilities. The establishment of an asylum for insane colored persons is also recommended.

Connecticut Republican Convention

HARTFORD, Conn, Feb 9 In the Republican State Convention today Senator Buckingham presided. They nominated the present State ticket except the Lieutenant Governor, Marvin Hyde, of New Haven, was nominated. The resolutions express gratitude for and fealty to the Republican party, equal rights and reaffirm the Chicago platform. They approve the President's policy in the past and future, endorse the 14th and 15th of the Different Amendment, praise the present administration for its economy and efforts in reducing the debt, favor the payment of the national debt in coin and speedy return to specie payments, recommend a tariff for revenue, favor the payment of bonds of the Pacific Railroads in coin, favor an impartial jury and jurisdiction of taxes, the removal of taxes from the necessaries of life and the imposition of taxes upon luxuries, favor the tariff recommendations of the Revenue Commissioner, favor the speedy completion of the Pacific Railroads, and the improvement of the harbors.

Political Contest in New Hampshire

CONCORD, Feb 10 The political contest in this State waxes warm. The Democrats will not put any speakers in the field, but will allow each delegate to go over to the labor reform. A new secret organization, called the Labor League, has been formed. It is rumored that it is to effect the labor reform movements.

From Central and South America

NEW YORK, Feb 10 The steamship Alaska from Aspinwall, on the first inst., brings $80,000 in treasure. Guatamala dates are to the 31st of December. In that State the revolution was fast dying out. The Nicaragua coffee crop was an entire failure.

A rising of Indians in the interior of Bolivia had taken place. The town of Hudyacho was captured by them. A government force is being sent against them.

New York News.

The Board of Underwriters, of New York, held a meeting yesterday, to consider the legal tender decision of the Supreme Court. The opinion prevailed that the officers and trustees of the corporations were bound to accept nothing but specie for both principal and interest, in payments of contracts made prior to the legal tender act. A committee was appointed to meet the officers of banks and other corporations for consultation.

BY THE CABLES

PARIS, Feb. 9 Disorders broke out again at Belleville and in Rue Du Faubourg Du Temple, at midnight. Several additional barricades have been erected in the narrow streets. The troops are still in the neighborhood of the scene, but up to this hour they have not fired on the rioters. The police are active. There are rumors of killed and wounded on the Boulevard Montmatre, the police having made several charges on the position of the rioters there. This point is fully a mile and a half distant from the scene of disturbance yesterday. Many additional arrests have been made. Gustave Flourens, the leader of the disturbances is still at large, though the authorities are making every effort to arrest him.

PARIS 3 P. M.—The police and military have the rioters under control and the city is tranquil.

PARIS, Feb 9—Noon.—The morning journals have the following details of the disturbance last night. There had been much excitement among the people during the day which culminated about midnight in now outbreaks. These were not confined to one locality, nor are they one of those suppressed yesterday at Lavallette and Belleville, but near the center of the city, only a few squares from the Palace Royal. New and stronger barricades were thrown up and vigorously defended. The police attacked several of these, but were quickly driven back. The military forces were then brought into requisition and carried all the barricades without firing on the crowds. There seems to be an indisposition on the part of both troops and rioters to resort to the use of fire arms. Strong detachments of police have been placed in all boulevards with orders to forcibly disperse all crowds. One hundred of the rioters have been arrested and several wounded, mainly in conflict with the police. It is reported some were killed. The Marseillaise did not appear to day. All its editors are under arrest for having aided the riot ers. One of the editors of the Rappel was also arrested for the same offense. The ministers examined at headquarters of the police all night. The city is now tranquil.

PARIS Feb 9—The city is tranquil. A strong police force is patrolling the streets. Many work shops are closed to-day. Crowds of hundreds of people gathered in the city last night hissed and in other ways insulted the police. They were ordered to disperse but refused, when the police charged and made a large number of arrests. After an examination this morning only thirty were remanded to prison.

LONDON, Feb 9. The newspapers have their comments on the Queen's speech and the debate there on in Parliament yesterday. The Times thinks that the weak point in the Ministry is the timid policy on the cash question, though this is somewhat redeemed by the courage displayed in the matter of Fenians and the promise to urge vigorous legislation.

The Daily News (Radical) only refers to the debate which followed to urge the ballot for national grievances. The Standard (conservative) considers the Government responsible for the violence in Ireland. As yet, it has failed to protect life and property.

In the House of Commons to day writs were issued for an election in Southwark and Londonderry to fill vacancies caused by the appointment of Layard as Ambassador to Spain and Dawne as Solicitor General for Ireland.

Bruce Home Secretary promised to introduce a bill enabling aliens to acquire and hold land in England.

The address in reply to the Queen's speech, was agreed to.

An act of Parliament is proposed to protect foreign inventions sent to the Workman's Exhibition, to be held here.

The merchants of Cork complain of a loss of prestige to that city by the transfer of shipments of all foreign mails, save one to channel ports.

The ultramontanes are exceedingly bitter against Dr. Dollinger for his letter against the proclamation of the dogma of Papal Infallibility. They everywhere denounce him.

A dispatch from Paris confirms the statement of the arrest of all the editors of the Marseillaise. The printers refuse to put the paper to press.

The Times considers the sympathy manifested at the opening of Parliament last night, contained no threatening elements.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb 9 The Chinese Embassadors have arrived and entered into treaty for commercial intercourse.

LISBON, Feb 9 A Peniat demonstration took place in Mayo yesterday. They attempted to release the prisoners. The priests successfully exhorted the mob to preserve peace.

The Orton case has passed from the light of a purely criminal scandal to the level of a newspaper quarrel. It is already almost forgotten in the rapid sweep of events and Miss Johnson's father may fabricate himself on relief from the pressure as of the past of the period. The interviewing personal journalist. The bad blood between the World and Tribune which broke out on slight provocation is thoroughly aroused. The Tribune intimates that the editor of the World ought to be horsewhipped and the World thinks its rival ought to be rhetorically veneered and proceeds to perfect the process with characteristic elaboration.

Butler in Reply to Dawes

MR. BUTLER MADE STATEMENTS IN HIS SPEECH THAT HE DID NOT CONSIDER THAT HE WOULD BE JUSTIFIED IN PUBLISHING.

The following are portions of Mr Butler's reply to Mr Dawes referring particularly to the estimates and expenditures of the Government, as reported to the Chicago Republican of Jan 27:

Mr. Butler, of Massachusetts, addressed the Committee in reply to the speech of his colleague, Dawes. The object of that speech was to show the unthinking and unreflecting that the first year of President Grant's administration called for the appropriation of $40 000 000 more than the expenditures of the last year of Johnson's administration. Of course the temptation of those outgoing Secretaries was to make a show of economy by abandoning all public works and by understimating every possible expenditure so as to embarrass the incoming administration and cause it to bring in a large deficiency bill, upon which Democrats might found the charge of extravagance against the Republican party, but to their wildest imagination they could not have dreamed that a Republican chairman of the Committee of Appropriations would be the willing instrument of their designs. A still more fatal misconception of truth by the chairman of the Committee, and a still greater deception on the country, whether intentional or not, was in overlooking the fact that the estimate of Andrew Johnson was based on large unexpended balances, the balance for the navy then being $35,000,000, and the Quartermaster's Department of the army, $6,000,000. Those balances were now expended, and substantially every dollar available for the future would have to be appropriated from revenues.

* * * * * *

In this connection, Mr. Butler read a letter to himself giving the unexpended balances of June, 1868, as follows:

War Department	$104,633,201
Navy Department	18,320,632
Indian and Pension Departments	20,027,988
Civil Service	13,444,588
Total	$156,426,409

Resuming his argument, he said that Andrew Johnson's Secretaries in 1868 should have made their estimates in view of these balances, while Gen Grant's Secretaries in 1869 made their estimates without any view of such balances in the Treasury, the balances being substantially expended. As to the War Department, the estimates for the year ending June 30, 1869, were $56,000,000, and if to that were added the old war debts paid, it would bring it to $80,000,000; army expenses for year ending June 30, 1870, the first year of Gen Grant's administration, were $44,000,000, a reduction in army expenditures from the last year of Johnson's to the first year of Grant's, $12,858,925, and the estimated reduction for the next year was $6,129,145, and he [illegible] the reduction would go on. As to the Post Office Department, his colleague knew nearly $12,000,000 of the estimated excess was a clerical error. Why omit stating that, if his statement was not the ingenious plea of an adversary of the Administration, endeavoring to fasten upon it the charge of extravagance. The whole amount asked for by the Post Office Department, being $6 of being $39,136,764, as appeared in the book of estimates, was $27,452,833. Ought not the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, before he made an attack upon the Administration of which he stood in the place of leader in the House, to have ascertained such error? But the error had been discovered at the War Department on the 7th of December, and his colleague had been notified of it.

* * * * * *

As to the Navy Department and his colleague's sneer at the attempted economy in coal, he showed that, instead of the coal of the navy costing $15,000,000 a year, the estimate for coal for two years, 1868 and 1869, amounted to $1,880,000; as to the Treasury Department, he [illegible]d to shew the excess in the estimates was caused by [illegible] of Congress in ordering the [illegible] of public works, such as New York and Boston

Re Union of the States Nearly Complete

A bill is pending in Congress to admit Mississippi. Having passed the House, it is now in the hands of the Senate. The dispatches state that the Committee on Reconstruction, to whom it had been referred, has reported it back shorn of all conditions. It provides simply that Mississippi is entitled to representation in Congress. This is an onward step of the liberal Republicans who gained such a victory in the Virginia case. In that case the Senate affixed conditions which the House had not thought necessary. The House accepted them rather than contend the ground over again, or to delay the restoration of the State. Now the Senate, in the spirit which characterized the majority in the House, has gone still further in the right direction and has removed all conditions from the Mississippi bill, or rather the Senate committee has recommended this, which is, no doubt, tantamount to its adoption.

Mississippi has adopted the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, and complied with all the requirements of the reconstruction laws. Her people have manifested an abundance of the proper spirit of obedience to the laws and loyalty to the Government, and an apparent desire to to place themselves in unison with the progress of the age. Disorders have been promptly quelled, and the people have betaken themselves to the labor of reconstructing their local industries upon a solid and enduring basis. So far as we can judge, the people of Mississippi may be as implicitly trusted with the immediate control of their domestic affairs as can any other State. With all these evidences urging in their behalf, they they ought not to be burdened with any further conditions; but should be restored to State equality without hesitation, and just as the Senate committee now proposes, Mississippi and Texas are now the only States wanting to complete the re-union of all the States. Texas will soon perform all her precedent conditions and present herself for admission. She, too, should be met in the same kind spirit, and admitted without a single week's delay. And then the great work of reconstruction will have been accomplished, and then can be applied to our Union again, with new significance, the patriotic lines of the poet:

> The union of lakes—the union of lands,
> The Union of States none can sever—
> The union of hearts—the union of hands,
> And the flag of our Union forever.

Editorial Notes.

We hear through the local column of the Salem Press that an anti-candidate society has been formed in that city and that an elegant club-room has been fitted up at an expense of six dollars. The roll of membership numbers three names. On the supposition that material for fitting up a club-room costs the same in this city as at Salem, about two dollars would furnish one amply large to accommodate the entire Democratic anti-candidate population of Multnomah county.

It is singular enough that the Herald while pretending to think the late legal tender decision favorable to the Democratic propositions to pay the public debt in greenbacks and for that purpose to make a large new issue of legal tenders, should at the same time appear so anxious to show that the telegraphic "syllabus" may be all a mistake; that neither Chase's opinion nor Miller's opinion purports to be the opinion of the court; that Judge Chase's opinion "determines nothing absolutely;" that it carries on its face its liability to be reversed; that the opinion is a forced one, etc. If the decision is so pointedly favorable to the "proposition of the Democracy," why all this effort to avoid the force of it? Why, if Chase has done the Democracy such a service, threaten to "use the weapon he has furnished us with, both to defeat his aspirations and break up his record?" And why menace him with "another piece of our mind?" It is quite evident that our neighbor is sadly demoralized. His effort to kiss the rod which smites him, is both ungraceful and ludicrous.

"All is tranquil in Paris," says the telegrams. Bonsparte, with a hundred thousand bayonets within a day's call of his palace, has put his thumb upon the vent of the volcano which a day or two ago thundered under Paris and "all is tranquil." It is tranquility, however, which does not seem to bring sleep to Napoleonic or ministerial eyes. The Emperor and staff in uniform and ready to lead the troops against the insurgents, and the ministers at headquarters all night, do not form a group which would strike an observer as a particularly tranquil one. The telegrams are those of the government and may not be taken for more than they express. Additional streets barricaded and the area of troubles widened toward the heart of the city! These facts loom up portentously in the tranquil scene. The end is not yet, but Napoleon's bayonets may for the time prevail and the Emperor's hand still retain its grasp on the throat of France. The riot shows, if nothing more, that there is a power in France which no longer worships Napoleon. There is a cloud upon the dynasty, and the signs are that it will not survive Napoleon III.

The New England Labor Reform League seems to be in a maze of difficulties. At its late annual convention, Jan. 23d, it adopted a resolution, among others, that "interest, rent, profit or other dividends are inherently sinful." Another declares in favor of repudiation. One of the speakers said, the wages system was a worse slavery than chattel slavery, because more deceptive, but failed to show how the laboring men were to live without wages. Another speaker denounced the resolutions and characterized the leaders of the labor reform movement as demagogues and humbugs. The wages system was not slavery, and interest was justifiable. The President, after numerous trades against capital had been discharged, especially invited capitalists to come forward and discuss the matter. "It was time that capitalists and laborers should meet on the same platform and rationally discuss the matter, and not mutually abuse each other and cut each others' throats." A workingman said the wages system was not slavery; another said it was and that "interest was robbery." The former editor of the Voice advocated repudiation on the ground that the debt had already been paid in interest, and "the money ought in the first place, to have been a free gift to the nation, just as the blood of the people was given freely." A member wanted to know if the labor reform movement had been started right, another answered that it had not, because those engaged in it didn't know exactly what they wanted. As incongruous, contradictory and spiteful as were the sayings in this convention, we doubt if there are any labor associations looking to politics as a means of righting the hardships of labor, which can make a better or more reasonable showing, or which knows any better "exactly what they want."

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO FEBRUARY 11.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The Committee on Ways and Means heard a large delegation representing the Whisky interest, who urged that the time for the withdrawal of whisky in bond shall be made three years instead of one. The arguments seemed to impress the Committee favorably.

The President has nominated Charles Clayton Surveyor of Customs for San Francisco.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—A Tribune's Washington special says the Ways and Means Committee heard a delegation of whisky men, who wish the time extended for taking whisky out of bond from one year as now to three years. They argued that fine whisky is not fit for the market till three years old, and a withdrawal at the expiration of a year was greatly detrimental to the owner. They represent that there are now 13,000,000 gallons of this whisky in bond. The delegation also want the tax on distilled spirits collected by direct tax at the place of manufacture, to cover the special tax and fees so that when the spirits leave the distillery, there shall be no further trouble about the matter.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The House Military Committee reported the claim of the so called National Guards of Tennessee for compensation from the General Government.

The Banking Committee examined Gen. Porter (the facts are private) with regard to his knowledge of the gold conspiracy, obtaining important evidence showing the efforts of the ring to involve the President and his family in the scheme.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A letter from Brussels says parties who intend to create a revolution in France meet regularly in that city, and have already involved a large number in the conspiracy. The Case of Dr. Sheoppe.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 10.—It is reported that Governor Geary has refused to approve the bill passed last week, directing the Supreme Court to review the evidences and decide capital cases on their merits. It was passed to cover the case of Dr. Schoeppe, now under sentence of death in Carlisle. Much evidence has been presented to the Governor in the case, and it is generally conceded that if the Supreme Court shall decide that there is no error in the record, he will not be inclined to extend clemency to the prisoner. The record, as it now stands with the Executive, is most damaging to Schoeppe.

CITY.

SLEIGHING.—The ordinance pending in the Common Council in reference to the purchase of a lot and the erection of an engine house for Legion Co No 4 appropriates $2 050 to pay for the lot and $6,000 to build the house

It has been suggested that the School Directors should make arrangements to have shade trees set out around the Central School building this spring

Two thousand bushels of wheat, 50 gunnies of bacon, 346 sacks of flour and 322 boxes of apples, were brought down from Oregon City yesterday by the boats

The entertainment, heretofore announced as to be given next Wednesday evening at the M E Church on Taylor street, has been postponed indefinitely

An "Anti Candidate Society, has been formed in Salem Such an organization here would not be well supported at all

A drove of sheep, numbering about 100, was brought into town yesterday for some of our dealers in mutton

The Plaza question is exciting considerable comment on the part of the people, and in the meantime the loose animals have free access to what there is left of vegetation in the enclosure

A three story brick will be erected on First street, west side, between Alder and Washington, the coming season, by Mr Corbett

SIX boats, belonging to the P T Company, are running above the Falls Some of these go up the river as far as Harrisburg

The Wallamet is rising slowly at this point

Snow covered the hills in the vicinity of Portland, yesterday morning The day was cold and rainy in the valleys

THE California has not yet sailed for Portland She will probably arrive here next Monday, bringing about 1,500 barrels of cement from Orcas Island, and coal from Nanaimo

The barks Almatta and Webfoot, sailed from San Francisco for Portland on the 1st inst, and are now due.

The Edward James, from New York, and the Cambridge from Honolulu, are also due, and may be expected soon

The bark Whistler, will sail from San Francisco for this port on the 15th inst., next Tuesday

It is reported that the brig Brewster, Captain Corno, has been sold, and will not ply between San Francisco and this port any longer

A GOOD SUGGESTION.—It has been suggested that it would be a good move on the part of our citizens, to make some arrangement for the establishment of an institution where those who are unable to obtain employment can find subsistence during such time as they may be out of work There will always be a class, and it must constantly increase in numbers, of those who will make an honest living in the summer, or when work is plenty, or when in good health, who will be entirely without means with a change of circumstances There are thousands of men, with honest hearts and industrious tendencies, who may not at all times obtain employment. The infirm mechanic or workman, the stranger, the man with injured health, or perhaps beyond the prime of life, are the first to be discharged in dull times, and are the most certain to find themselves in our cities without employment and without money. Society and our laws ought to acknowledge a wide difference between these men and criminals, but they do not. Some provision ought to be made for the classes referred to other than that of crowding them into our jails with the worst classes of the community. We need industrial establishments, in which the classes referred to may be temporarily received and earn their own living.

COUNTY BUSINESS.—No business of importance was transacted before the County Court yesterday In the afternoon the Board of Commissioners met, heard the additional reports of road supervisors and audited a number of claims against the county, allowing some and rejecting others. Among those disallowed were several claims for fees as witnesses before the grand jury, which the board think not collectible at law. One witness who was subpœnaed to attend before the grand jury and came a distance of four hundred miles, and who was subpœnaed, after he reached the city, to appear before the Court, had his claim for mileage rejected because he came the distance in pursuance of a subpœna to attend before the grand jury and not on the one to testify in Court. We are informed that an action will likely be brought to test this question. A bill of the Deputy Sheriff of Wasco county for services in arresting a Chinaman at the Dalles and bringing him to Portland, in which the officer charged mileage for himself and the Chinaman too, was reduced as much as "John's" mileage amounted to. The question of appointing an Inspector of Salmon was postponed. The board adjourned to meet at one o'clock, afternoon, on next Tuesday.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—The Advocate says there were 480 persons present at the missionary concert on Sabbath afternoon last at the M. E. Church. The collection amounted to $25. The Chinese department is increasing in numbers and interest.

At the close of the quarterly meeting on Monday evening last at the Taylor street M. E Church it was resolved to protract the services during the week. So far the meetings have been attended with much interest and profit to the membership.

Zion M. E Church, Rev. J Lodge, pastor, has enjoyed much spiritual prosperity of late. Several persons have joined on probation, and the membership has been greatly encouraged.

A protracted meeting of two weeks continuance was closed at the Hall Street Church on Monday evening last. About twenty sought religion, nine of them were converted, and eight in all joined the Church Membership was greatly revived.

The Sentinel says Rev. F. N. Blanchet, Archbishop of the Diocese of Oregon City, presented Pope Pius IX with a purse of 800 francs and received the Pope's blessing on the clergy and laity of the diocese in return

MUSIC AND SUNSHINE.—If heaven should bless us with the latter, the Military Band will favor with the former, at the Plaza this afternoon at at 2:30 Programme as follows:

1. March from La Fille du Regiment, Donizetti
2. Ladies' Schottisch.
3. Duet from Norma, (Mira, O Norma,) Bellini
4. Quadrille from Il Trovatore, Verdi.
5. Duet from Maritana, (Holy Mother Guide his Footsteps, Wallace

7. The Portuguese Reveille.
8. Helter Skelter Galop.

DISCHARGED.—Two men named Palmer and McBerigby, who have been before the Recorder for two or three days, awaiting the appearance of the prosecuting witness, were yesterday discharged. They were accused of robbery by force, but no clue to the whereabouts of the original complainant could be got and the defendants could not be longer held It is thought that the witness has been either "spirited" away by the friends of the accused or that he secretes himself to defeat the ends of justice

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The United States Circuit Court, Hon M P Deady Judge, convened yesterday morning. The arguments of counsel were heard on the pleas, and a demurrer to the bill in the case of J B Newby vs O. C. R. R Co. and the matters submitted to the court Hill for complainant, and Mitchell and Stout for defendant.

THIS EVENING.—It is announced that Mr Arnoup will lecture at the Methodist Church this evening on the subject of Spiritualism, giving some of the main positions taken by him in the late discussion with Mr Todd Mr Arnoup is an able speaker and will doubtless entertain and instruct his audience

A GOOD PIECE.—The comedy of Dot, or the Cricket on the Hearth, is an elegant little play, and the audience at Oro Fino Theatre was well pleased with its rendition last night The first Matinee will be given this afternoon The evening the programme is the best offered this season

DIED.—Mr D H Wilcox, who was injured at Carson & Porter's sash factory about ten days ago, died of his wounds last night We received news of his death at a late hour, and are unable to give particulars

AT EAST PORTLAND.—We hear that Professor Plummer will favor our neighbors across the river with one of his amusing entertainments sometime during next week He's show is one worthy of a liberal patronage

BY THE CABLES

PARIS Feb 10.—In the Corps Legislatif to day, Maurice Richard Minister of Fine Arts in answer to an inquiry regarding documents missing from the archives of the Government, said some letters of Napoleon I were missing, but they were in such hands that he would take the responsibility of leaving them there Mackerary was dissatisfied with the explanation, and charged that the present Cabinet was no longer a Parliamentary ministry but belonged to the Court For this the Deputy was called to order, but he continued, declaring that it would be better to have ten archives for document probing and that the present Napoleon sought to corrupt the leaders of the Legislative body The President here interrupted Ackerary and refused to allow him to proceed with his remarks

The Journal de Rissere has been seized and its directors arrested

The report that Provost Parodal is to go to Washington as Minister from France, is contradicted

PARIS, (noon) Feb 10.—There was considerable excitement yesterday Last evening the police were active in dispersing crowds No outbreaks occurred and many arrests were made The military were out in full force but were not needed At two o'clock this morning the streets were nearly all as quiet as usual At this hour the city is perfectly tranquil

PARIS Feb 10.—4 P M.—The amount of bullion in the Bank of France has increased one million and six hundred thousand francs during the week

The city is still quiet Armed police are patrolling the quarter lately occupied by rioters Gustave Flourens has not yet been arrested and is said to have fled to Belgium The grand ball at the Tuileries, announced for last evening, was postponed on account of the disorders. The vigilance of the Government authorities is by no means abated Troops are near at hand, which can be concentrated at any given point at the shortest notice

PARIS, Feb 10.—8 P M.—The city is tranquil There is a strong feeling of excitement under the surface, but the ample precautions of the government prevent any manifestation of disorder It is reported that at the beginning of the present troubles the Emperor and his staff, in full uniform, were prepared if the riot became an insurrection, to join the troops

Copies of the Gazette of Augsburg, containing the defeat of the Canon of Papal Infallibility, were seized and confiscated at the post office in Rome

LONDON, Feb. 10.—In the House of Lords, Redesdale, chairman of the committee, said bills were pending for the construction of twenty four street railways, with an aggregate length of one hundred and forty five miles He advises official inquiry on the subject Earl Kimberly promised that the Government would make the investigation.

Earl Kimberly submitted the correspondence between England and the United States on the Alabama claims, and the House adjourned

In the Commons, Beaumont gave notice of the introduction of a bill to relieve Bishops from attendance at the sittings of the House of Lords

The Marquis of Huntington, Postmaster General, explained that the confusion in the telegraph service is due to the inexperience of the new employes, the state of the weather and the sudden increase of business. He implored the public to have patience, as the trouble was temporary

Gladstone moved that as O'Donovan Rossa could not under the law take his seat in the House of Commons, a new writ of election be issued for Tipperary. Henry Matthews, member from Dungarvan, opposed the motion. The Solicitor General admitting Rossa's crime was not treason, said that nevertheless attainder attached, and that therefore the motion was within the power of the House. Johnston made a speech against the motion. Gatherin Hardy argued that if Rossa was a member of the House he would be liable to expulsion The course of the Government in this case would therefore have his support. Roundell Palmer concurred in the opinion of the Solicitor General. After speeches against the motion from Bonery and Gregory a vote was taken and Gladstone's motion was agreed to, 301 to 8.

Notice was given of a bill providing for the reorganization of the Mint and making the Chancellor of the Exchequer ex officio master of the Mint.

Monsell, Under Secretary for the Colonies, referred to the Red River disturbances and attributed the opposition to the Government of McDougall to his misconception of his powers. He said instructions had been forwarded to the Governor.

A bill will be submitted to Parliament at an early day for making interest on coupons pay able quarterly

Sir W. Gordon, commander at Chatham, who cut his throat a few days ago, is dead

The Times opposes Government's proposition for promoting emigration to Canada.

The Admiralty Office will sell a number of war steamers at Lloyds at the close of February

There is active speculation in telegraph shares in certain quarters.

The English Government has declined to promise any reduction on tobacco duties

What the Miners say of Hostetters's Stomach Bitters.

During the season when the Gold Harvest is generally suspended, and the rapers of the glittering crop seek the cities to enjoy themselves there in, of course, a good deal of conviviality among this enterprising and hard working class; but drum drinking is not carried to the excess it was some years ago This may fairly be attributed to the distants engendered by the use of HOSTETTER S STOMACH BITTERS This famous stomachic is in universal favor with the miners They take it with them to the interior, and use it regularly, not as a beverage, but as a strength sustaining tonic, and an antidote to the unhealthy influences to which they are exposed in the localities where they labor; and on returning to the cities and towns, they find in its refreshing and invigorating properties the best safe-guard, not only against the diseases, but against the dissipation of crowded communities It is one of the peculiarities of the preparation that it is an antidote to inebriety Those who take it as an appetizer and invigorant, over find that they have no desire whatever for liquor of any description, and, whatever fanatics may think to the contrary, HOSTETTER S BITTERS is a powerful ally of the temperance cause. It is because an medicated alcohol weakens the stomach and nervous system by its reaction, that it begets a craving for itself. It excites, and when the excitement passes off, debility ensues, and more fuel is needed to renew the artificial fire that has, so to speak, burnt itself out But the effect of the great vegetable tonic and alterative is to invigorate the system permanently and healthfully

DR. J. J. M'BRIDE,

TELLS YOUR DISEASE WITHOUT ASKING ANY QUESTIONS!

A CARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 16 1869

DR McBRIDE—My Dear Sir For the last six or seven years I have been afflicted with rheumatic pains, from my knees down, embracing all the joints of ankle and toes These pains have come upon me periodically every year, about this season of the year My knees and ankles, and toe joints, and my wrists and finger joints would swell and leave me in the most agonizing pain, known only to those who have suffered from this dread malady These pains would continue for a period of from three to four months every year, and they have been regular, unfailing annual visitors I have been accustomed to apply for relief to the best physicians of San Francisco, and have not failed to use all the popular remedies known to the public I would sometimes receive temporary relief, after long continued applications but it would never fail to return in a few days with increased severity

About two weeks ago while my pains were upon me, I saw you at the corner of, one of our streets and heard what you said about your "King of Pain" I confess that I listened to you with deep distrust indeed I may say that I did not believe your statements "still, thought I, "it's only a dollar, and I'll patronize the humbug one dollar's worth" I bought a bottle and tried it first on my knee, which was fearfully swollen, and from which I suffered very severely The second night I tried it again, and my dear Doctor, you can judge of my surprise, ecstacy and delight, altogether, when I found on rising the second morning, that my pains were entirely gone and the swelling entirely disappeared My knee joints were as supple as when I was young I actually danced with delight, much to the amusement of my friends, who had been in the habit of regarding me as a decrepid old rheumatic It has now been two weeks and I have not felt the least symptom of return I believe I am cured, and I feel so grateful to you that I offer you this statement, verified by my oath, to be used by you in whatever way you may think proper, and I feel it a duty to let others similarly afflicted know where they can find relief I am, yours, very truly, RAPHAEL LOOKAYSE

State of California, city and county of San Francisco On this 18th day of October 1869, personally as peared before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for the city and county of San Francisco aforesaid Raphael Lookayse known to me to be the person who signed the foregoing letter and who being by me duly sworn deposes and says the contents thereof are true

T W TALIAFERRO Justice of the Peace

TO THE PUBLIC

Grateful for the eminent services of Dr J J McBride I cheerfully make a statement of the following facts For twelve months I had suffered from prostration of my nervous system, resulting in partial paralysis and almost total loss of sight A score of physicians had abandoned my case as hopelessly incurable I had even heard my days numbered by doctors and friends In the agonies of my neuralgia pain I sought the great King of Pain Under that benign influence in one half hour I had obtained more medical aid than I had known for long weary months My sight was so much restored that I could read print although I had needed a guide to find Dr McBride's office an hour before Before leaving him I had regained the use of my almost palsied limbs and seemingly my strength had returned while all those aches and pains my constant companions were dissipated and gone It is now ten days since I underwent treatment with Dr McBride and I can say unhesitatingly that I am restored as I could not have expected I have been in so little time My eyesight is most perfectly regained, my whole physical system corrected and inure doubted health

My residence is in Reading I do business at No 63½ Cambridge street in this city where I will willingly vouch in person for the truth of the foregoing to any one interested

A PRIVATE VISIT THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

From the N. Y. Herald, Jan 26

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The next bureau visited by the Treasury of the United States Secretary first conducted his visitors to the of Treasurer Spinner, where they found that affable gentleman hard at work attaching his clear signature to drafts, warrants and checks of various sorts, amounts and descriptions. The face recognized him at once as the man whose looking phiz is on the old fifty cent notes. The notion was a formality, for the Prince felt quite at home with General Spinner as if he had been as a clerk with him for the last ten years. Mr. Spinner was expatiating upon his favorite theme of keeping damned rogues away from the Treasury, when the amiable Secretary Boutwell reminded him that life is short and time is long. General Spinner took the hint, saying he would reserve what he was about to say for his next annual report, a copy of which he promised to send the Prince under his own frank, and "Official business." He then escorted the party through the various branches of the Treasury Bureau, going first of all to the cash room, where he knew would dazzle the Prince. Spinner was correct in his judgment, as he usually is, for when the Prince stood in the midst of the solid marble room, with its variegated colors, opened his mouth as well as his eyes, with astonishment. He did not want to depreciate his native land by bringing her public buildings into comparison with those he had seen here, but he could not help saying this was the finest room he had seen on this side of the water. The next room to which they were conducted was the vault. His Royal Highness was not permitted to step into these, but Spinner told him the exact balance in the Treasury up to that moment. Then such gold cams in every day and how it was that there to smash the gold rings which were used from time to time in Wall street, a place in New York, said Spinner, which is the resort of the rascals in the country. The Prince replied Spinner with evident interest as he watched him surveying complacently the strong doors and bolts which bar the way to the hidden mill of yellow eagles and double eagles. Spinner lingered here as a man does around the spot where his treasure is, and evidently wanted to impress the Prince with an idea of the vast wealth of Uncle Sam, for he told him more than once how much coin there was in the Treasury.

VIEW OF GENERAL SPINNER'S TREASURES.

The good-natured Treasurer, recalling his own good, thought the young Prince would like to see some of the young ladies about as well as the men, and so he conducted him through some of the rooms in which there is nothing but girls. In the girls in Spinner's bureau are the handsomest in the Treasury building. Beauty is almost one of the points which decides whether they shall or shall not be employed. An ungainly-favored woman is as obnoxious to Spinner as Wall street gold gambler. The Treasurer has an idea that a handsome woman can do her work better than a homely one. As was to have expected the Prince was fairly dazzled when he entered the room in which the ladies are. Seeing many of them made him blush slightly, but Spinner came to his aid and assured him that they were perfectly harmless and no gushing demonstration need be anticipated. As he passed through the corridors from room to room such of the employés as were there stopped to gaze at him. Among them were a large number of young ladies, who, being away from their offices were free from restraint. They commented variously upon the appearance of the Prince. Some said he was a handsome fellow, and looked just like a man; others thought he was not as good look in some of the clerks or some of their Continental friends. Some of the more impressive recalled to his him for his mother. One girl declared she had a look of his hair; another hoped she could drop his pocket handkerchief so she could pick it up and keep it as a remembrance. Others were curious to know if he had a sweetheart, and pictured to her companions the kind of woman she thought he would marry.

After leaving the Treasury Department the party returned to the residence of the British Minister, where he lunched and tried to recall the beautiful faces he had seen in Spinner's Bureau.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S CURRENCY BILL.

[From the New York Times, Jan. 25.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Comptroller of Currency has furnished the Senate Finance Committee with a statement showing, in part, how the forty-five millions of new currency provided for in Sherman's bill, to-day under consideration in the Senate, will have to be distributed:

States and West	$1,902,857	Georgia	$2,013,396
Virginia	1,604,431	North Carolina	3,228,746
Kentucky	2,704,436	South Carolina	1,420,205
Tennessee	3,288,118	Alabama	2,534,338
Missouri	3,288,403	Texas	1,893,403
Illinois	826,338	Arkansas	1,190,350
Mississippi	1,869,455	Florida	429,351

This makes an aggregate of $25,289,570, which is the proportion of national bank notes belonging to the aforesaid States under the provision of existing laws requiring the distribution of $50,000,000 on the basis of the population. The remaining $19,710,430 authorized in this new issue must be distributed on the basis of the State debt. The Comptroller has not furnished a statement saying officially where this will go, but says in conversation that the whole or the greater part of it must also be given to the South-Atlantic States, Wisconsin alone of the Northern and Western States getting a small amount.

THE NEGRO DEPARTURE FROM VIRGINIA.

[From the Lynchburg Republican, Jan. 21.]

For a crowd of negroes, big and little, men and women, including a number of infants, filled the Tennessee depot yesterday afternoon, and crowded all the approaches to it, that access to the train was only to be accomplished by energetic efforts and elbowings. A freight train on the Southside Road brought up yesterday 154 negroes from the southside counties, mainly from Prince, and the adjacent counties of Persons and Granville, North Carolina. These were joined by forty negroes from the city, including, we are informed, about thirty hands lately employed in the tobacco factories; and they all left yesterday for Louisiana and Alabama, where they have been employed to labor on the sugar and cotton plantations.

The entire emigration has consisted mainly of able-bodied men; the bone and sinew of the working element. The party which left yesterday morning, as already stated, a large number of the men and mulatto folk—for such we infer, with reflection, that the best class of laborers is now left to be induced to leave Virginia, and that the exodus is virtually ended.

HON. R. REVELS, THE COLORED SENATOR FROM MISSISSIPPI—SOME OF THE ANTECEDENTS OF THE CESSOR OF JEFF DAVIS.

From the Leavenworth (Kansas) Times and Conservative Radical, Jan. 27.]

A telegraph announced yesterday that Hiram Revels had been elected United States Senator, for the unexpired term, from Mississippi. This is the first representative of the colored race elected to the United States Senate, and he will take the seat made vacant by Jeff Davis when that eminent gentleman resigned and became a traitor. Mr. Revels is a native of North Carolina, and was educated in Ohio. He is now about forty-five years old, and has been for many years a clergyman of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. Before the war he preached in St. Louis and Baltimore.

The last year of the war he was at Vicksburg and came from there to Leavenworth. His brother, Dr. Willis R. Revels, who is a practicing physician and a man of wealth in Indianola, Miss., came here in the fall of 1865, and in charge of the church in this city. He helped to build the church edifice in this city, and was considered a very able man. He is a man of fine sense, of excellence of good business qualifications, and an eloquent speaker. The next Annual Conference sent him from this city to Louisville, where he remained one year; then he was transferred to the Louisiana Conference, under Bishop Shorter. His present residence is Natchez. At the recent election he was elected U. S. Senator from the Fourth district, receiving a majority of 3,186, while Alcorn, for Governor, received only 2,460. He is a man of nerve and courage, and will not consent to be mal treated or ignored by persons of any variety of color or caste. It will not be prudent to snub him in the Senate, either on the ground of color or as a carpet-bagger or for intellectual inferiority. We have letters of his before us, addressed to Captain William D. Matthews, of this city. The handwriting is excellent, the style and the spelling invariably correct, and are very much superior to the letters written by two white men who were re-elected to the Senate from Kansas.

VICTOR NOIR'S FUNERAL.

The incidents at the funeral of Victor Noir are given in the Paris journals:

"20, all the avenues and streets adjacent to the house where the remains laid were crowded with people. The number was immense. The citizens who surrounded the house cried out that the body must be brought to Pere Lachaise. Louis Noir injured the people to be calm, and said they should respect the remains of his brother. "He was one of the dear departed," he cried, "and if there are troubles; do not give a pretext to the authorities to act."

The cries redoubled: "The body is ours; it belongs to us; he is one of the people; we will take him to Pere-Lachaise." Louis Noir again implored them; he was received with sympathy, but the crowd continued in the same mood.

1 35.—A magnificent crown of immortelles was brought forward, bearing the simple words, "To Victor Noir, the Democracy of Toulouse." M. Rochefort and Delescluze are in the house, and are endeavoring with the friends of the deceased to prevent the intended demonstration. M. Rochefort called for silence, he appeared at a window on the first story, and was wildly cheered. He said that M. Delescluze would submit to the people the definite decision come to by the friends and family of Victor Noir. Citizen Delescluze then came forward, and said: "Citizens—The circumstances which unite us are the gravest and most solemn of all. One of our friends has been assassinated by a member of the Bonaparte family. We must have vengeance, we shall have it. But the ambush is laid. The enemy watches at the gratings. We must not give him the prize. [Yes, yes.] Citizens, it was our desire to carry the body to Pere-Lachaise, but we shall not. For the first time in 18 years the wind blows our way. Let us not compromise our cause, the cause of all peoples—the cause of justice. We must conform to the wish of Victor Noire's family. The funeral must go toward the cemetery of Neuilly. [No, no.] Citizens, you have never had to give a greater proof of moderation and of patriotism. Citizens, to Neuilly, to Neuilly!" [Yes, yes.]

The coffin was lowered; all the crowd rushed forward; they uncovered and defiled before the betrothed of Victor Noire. An immense number separated to proceed toward Neuilly, singing the Marseillaise and crying Vive la Republique! Down with the Bonapartes! Death to the assassin!

THE SUBSCRIPTION FOR THE FAMILY OF THE LATE EDWIN M. STANTON—ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS RAISED.—The fund raised for the family of the late Edwin M Stanton amounts at the present time to $100,000, one half of which has been subscribed in this city.

The Union League Club appointed a committee to receive contributions, and Mr. A. T. Stewart, representing that committee, has obtained $50,000. His personal list contains, among others, the following names:

A. T. Stewart	$5,000	John D. Wolf	$1,000
Wm. H. Stewart	1,000	J. D. & A. Cowell	1,000
Judge Hilton	1,000	Henry Clews	1,000

There are a few others upon Mr. Stewart's paper who severally gave $1,000 each; the remainder of the $25,000 on his paper is made up in sums of $500 each.

Collector Grinnell represented a committee raised in Washington, of which Mr. Justice Swayne, of the Supreme Court of the United States, was Chairman, and Mr. Samuel Hooper, Representative from Massachusetts, was Secretary. The following is a copy of Mr. Grinnell's paper:

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to contribute the sums set against our respective names toward the formation of a fund to be applied for the benefit of the family of the late Edwin M. Stanton, and as a slight testimonial of our appreciation of the services rendered by him to our common country in its period of greatest trial:

Moses Taylor	$1,000	Jw. Sampson	$1,000
Wm. E. Dodge	1,000	John J. Astor	1,000
Morton, Bliss & Co	1,000	Jas. H. Banker	1,000
W. E. Vermilye	1,000	Wm. W. Phelps	1,000
Chas. H. Russell	1,000	Adams Express Co	1,000
M. O. Roberts	1,000	James Lenox	1,000
M. H. Grinnell	1,000	Cash	1,000

John Steward	1,000	Geo. F. Talman	500
Jas. B. Green	1,000	A. O. Kingsland	500
Amos R. Eno	1,000	P. Hayden	500
E. D. Morgan	1,000	S. B. Chittenden	500
Ed. Pierrepont	1,000	H. H. Claflin	500
Wm. B. Astor	1,000

The reports from the other principal cities do not amount to much. The summing up is about as follows:

Mr. Stewart's paper	$25,000
Mr. Grinnell's paper	24,000
Boston	16,000
Philadelphia	20,000
Washington	12,000
Total	$97,000

Senator Chandler, of Michigan, gave $5,000 of the amount raised in Washington. Boston promises $5,000 more, and Philadelphia $10,000 more which will make a total of $112,000, without hearing from Mr. Stanton's native State (Ohio,) which has not reported.—N. Y. Herald.

A perceptible diminution in the volume of flour coming into this market, has been noticed for several days, but the quantity of wheat received has considerably increased. During the week, ending yesterday, the total receipts of the latter have fallen but little short of 18,000 bushels. This cereal being the leading commodity of Oregon exports, our people are largely interested in the question of what is to be done with the surplus now on hand, as well as the prospects for obtaining a remunerative market for the crop now sown. The indications of a prolific yield, on this coast, are good, and the breadth of land seeded is said to be much greater in California than ever before. This is also true in regard to Oregon, and we are entirely within bound in the prediction that Oregon will have a surplus of wheat this year to the amount of 5,000,000 bushels. The markets of South America and China must be depended on principally as consumers of this surplus. We are sorry to see, from some of our California exchanges, that damaged wheat has been, in some cases, purchased by the millers of that State and ground up expressly for the Chinese markets; an act, which certainly exhibits a wrong idea of the policy which should always control in commercial matters. A voluntary fear was expressed by our neighbors of San Francisco, that a small lot of injured grain, accidentally shipped from Oregon, would have a bad effect on the fair reputation earned for our State in that regard. A much worse effect, it seems to us, is likely to be produced on the trade of the entire coast, by the shipment of bad, mixed flour to China, spoken of. That country, in all probability, if we are not found wanting in reliability, will become our chief dependence for a market for breadstuffs, and we should, in justice to ourselves, endeavor to uphold the fair name, our products have heretofore borne. With this, we may be able to compete with the rest of the world for their trade.

Our local market to-day, presents but little, worthy of note. Groceries, fruits, dry goods, etc., remain unchanged and dull. Butter, eggs and bacon are slow sale, with a slight downward tendency. Sugars, syrups and salt are in full supply.

Merchants generally, anticipate a revival of business within a fortnight. By that time, or soon after, the spring trade will set in, and more life in commercial matters will be manifest. Orders from the interior are coming in very slowly, and dealers here, in some cases, deem it safest to watch the indications and come to some conclusion as to the result of the business of the approaching season, before replenishing their stocks.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

IT CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MEDLEY,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.
